

[Management of chronic ulcers: punch grafting]

[Article in French]

Angeliki Koulouri ¹, Caroline Buset ², Jürg Hafner ³, François Kuonen ¹

Affiliations + expand

PMID: 35353456 DOI: 10.53738/REVMED.2022.18.775.604

Abstract in English, French

Chronic ulcers are a common but important dermatological problem and a major source of expense in the western countries. Skin graft is a surgical procedure in which skin or skin substitute is transplanted in order to close a wound. This article aims to review the different categories of grafts, their indications for the healing of chronic ulcers of the lower limbs, emphasizing the position of punch grafts in the treatment arsenal.

Conflict of interest statement

Les auteurs n'ont déclaré aucun conflit d'intérêts en relation avec cet article.